

Electives

The following is a list of electives that may be offered during Trimester VII, from which students can choose any four. Faculty members from respective subject areas are encouraged to suggest additional electives.

Business Communication
Language, Knowledge and Society
Management Learning Through Theatre
Economics
Applied Econometric Methods
Causal Analysis using Machine Learning
Competition Policy: Theory and Practice
Economic Growth and Development
Globalization and Emerging Markets
Intertemporal Macroeconomics
Labor Economics
Monetary Policy
Policies for Economic Development
Money, Banking and Financial Markets
Welfare Economics
Finance
Bank Management and Finance
Derivatives and Risk Management
Financial Analysis using Bloomberg
Fintech
Investment Banking and Venture Capital
Portfolio and Trading
Project and Infrastructure Financing
Information Technology
AI and LLM for Management
Introduction to Emerging Technologies
Management Information Systems
Marketing
Marketing Analytics
Digital Marketing and Online Platforms
Responsibility and Accountability
Influencer Marketing

Operations
Advanced Game Theory
Decision Making under Information Asymmetry
Design and Analysis of Experiments
Discrete Event Simulation
Discrete Optimization
Introduction to Bayesian Analysis
Introduction to Stochastic Calculus
Project Management
Social Network Analysis
System Dynamics
Social Sciences
Community Mental Health
Contemporary Debates in Indian Politics
Environment Politics
Indian Financial System
Intellectual Property Rights
Introduction to Sociology
Organizational Sociology
Public Decision-making in an Uncertain World
Public Economics
Social Entrepreneurship
Technology and Politics
The Art and Science of Yoga
Strategy
Creativity & Innovation
Design Thinking
Do Your Venture
Start Your Own Business